Naples, October 17, N. S.

THE large Train of Artillery and military Stores which have been collecting together for ſome time paſt, are all ordered to be laid up in the Magazines of the Arſenal.

Leghorn, Oct. 27, N. S. The Maſter of a Swediſh Ship, who on the 18th Inſtant put in at this Port by contrary Winds, in 24 Hours from Marſeilles, ſays, that the Toulon Squadron was ſailed, but to what Part was not known.

Florence, Oct. 29, N. S. The Secretary of State has, by the laſt Poſt from Turin, received Notice, that on the 2d Inſtant Orders from the Court of Spain were ſent to Barcelona for the Imbarkation of the Spaniſh Troops, on an Expedition, under Convoy of the Toulon Squadron already arrived at Barcelona. On the 24th, 70 Boxes of military Stores were ſent from hence to Leghorn, by the River Arno, for the Uſe of the Garriſon of that Place.

Vienna, Oct. 28, N. S. The Appearances of a Siege vaniſh here every Day more and more: Yeſterday Morning 8000 Bavarians marched from Crems towards Budeweis in Bohemia, and thoſe who were at St. Polten begin to retire towards Ips and Ens, though it is not thought to be their Intention quite to evacuate this Country of Lower Auſtria, except they are forced to it by Famine, but that their main Deſign is now to make themſelves Maſters of the Kingdom of Bohemia. Every body is of Opinion that the Matter muſt be decided by a Battle in Bohemia, where the Great Duke will put himſelf at the Head of Count Neuperg's Army, and when join'd to Prince Lobkowitz's ſeparate Body, will have together 40 or 45000 Men. The Queen ſent ſix Days ago the following Reſcript to the Commiſſion eſtabliſhed here, by her Order, for the Security of the Town.

'Her Majeſty the Queen, in Conſequence 'of her tender Compaſſion, takes very much 'to Heart the great Prejudice that muſt accrue to the Burgherſhip of Vienna, from a 'longer Abſence of her Court, and as the 'ſaid Burgherſhip have ſhewn and demonſtrated, in the moſt ſenſible Manner, their 'Faith and Devotion in theſe dangerous 'Conjunctures, ſo her Majeſty, in the preſent leſs apparent Danger of a Siege, would 'be glad to return again to the Town, and 'thereby help, as much as poſſible, to procure to the Merchants the neceſſary Means 'of ſubſiſting. Therefore the Commiſſion 'eſtabliſhed by the Court for the Security of 'the Town, is to conſider maturely, whether, when, and with what Precautions her 'Majeſty could, if the Danger of a Siege 'ſhould quite vaniſh, at leaſt for the next 'Month of November, return to her Reſidence, for the Comfort and Aſſiſtance of 'her moſt devoted Burgherſhip, and to ſend 'thereupon their Opinion at large to Court." The Great Duke will, as is ſaid, ſet out the 3d of next Month for the Army, which will march the Day after to Morrow for Olmitz.

Breſlau, Oct. 28, N. S. Prince Leopold of Deſſau is marched into Bohemia with a Body of Pruſſian Troops, conſiſting of ten Battallions and 30 Squadrons, with an Intention, as is ſaid, to take Winter Quarters there. Immediately upon Count Neuperg's Retreat into Moravia, the King of Pruſſia marched towards Neiſs, and inveſted it on the 19th Inſtant, ſince which time he has been employed in diverting a Branch of the River of that Name, in order to drain the Grounds about the Town, which the Auſtrians had laid under Water. He has brought a Number of battering Pieces and Mortars from Brieg, and with theſe has been playing upon the Town for ſome Days paſt with Succeſs; ſo that it muſt neceſſarily fall into his Hands in a very ſhort time, there being now no Hopes of Succour. The King has appointed the 8th of November, N. S. for the States of Lower Sileſia to do Homage to him, in Perſon, at Breſlau, and a great Number of Gentlemen who had left the Country, are returned here for that Purpoſe; ſoon after which the King is to return to Berlin. 'Tis ſaid that his Brother Prince William is to be married to a Siſter of the Queen of Pruſſia's about the Middle of next Month.

Hubertsbourg, Nov. 5, N. S. M. d'Eting, the Bavarian Miniſter at the Court of Rome, having asked the Pope's Benediction on his Electoral Highneſs's Arms againſt the Queen of Hungary, his Holineſs told him, that neither the Neutrality he was determined to obſerve with regard to the belligerent catholick Princes, would admit of it, nor was it conſiſtent
